

Mayor Sylvester Turner

Houston-area COVID-19 Testing Sites

People with COVID-19 symptoms should first contact their family doctor about testing. This list of COVID-19 testing sites in the Houston area is not extensive and only includes “mass” testing sites.

Community Based Testing Sites

The Houston Health Department and local medical community, including members of the Texas Medical Center, operate free COVID-19 drive-thru testing sites for high-risk symptomatic people.

Symptomatic people can visit ReadyHarris.org to use an online screening tool or call the Houston Health Department’s COVID-19 call center at 832-393-4220 to be screened. People who meet testing criteria will receive a unique identification code and instructions on where to go for testing.

The site only accepts people with a unique identification code obtained through the screening process. Those who show up without an identification code will not get tested.

United Memorial Medical Center

United Memorial Medical Center offers free COVID-19 drive-thru testing for high-risk people who register for pre-screening at ummcscreening.com or call 281-618-8500. People who are eligible will be directed to a local drive-thru testing site.

Legacy Community Health

Legacy Community Health offers COVID-19 testing for symptomatic people determined to be at-risk. People may visit legacycommunityhealth.org or call 832-548-5000 to be screened. Legacy offers testing on a sliding fee scale, and the clinic bills insurance companies for those who are covered.

My Family Doctor

My Family Doctor has a drive-thru testing site at 6430 Hillcroft Street open Monday through Friday between 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. This site is currently cash only and limited to high-risk people with symptoms. People can visit the My Family Doctor website at covid19drivethru.com for more information.

MD Medical Group: Clinicas Mi Doctor and MD Kids Pediatrics

Two Houston MD Medical Group clinics offer drive-thru COVID-19 testing by appointment. People can request an appointment by calling or texting 1-888-776-5252, or visiting www.mdmedicalgroup.us

Updated: March 27, 2020